For many years this book was relegated solely as a poetic metaphor of God’s relationship with Israel and, by extension, of Christ’s relationship with the church. In the late 20th century, it has also served as a marriage manual of sorts. This premiere study in the new MORE series focuses on the Lover-Beloved metaphor that’s expressed throughout the Bible to describe God’s relationship with us. While other interpretations may be beneficial, the primary purpose of this beautiful, romantic poem is to provide us a deeply personal understanding of God’s heart for each one of us. The Lover-Beloved metaphor has huge implications for us both now and in eternity! Serendipity House MORE Series. 6 weeks	$7.99

Contagious Community: Living Beyond Yourself	The power of "WITH." Another good first study. So many of us make our way through the early years sharing our lives as we create memories with our friends and families. We're all familiar with this part of the journey. But then something happens. As marriage, family, career, responsibilities, obligations, and routines move to center stage, authentic and lasting community gets squeezed from the picture. While it's true that God has created us for community, it can be difficult to know what it looks like, how it feels, and how to begin building it. Contagious Community: Living Beyond Yourself identifies the crucial elements of true, lasting Christian community. This study provides the direction and depth necessary to move beyond reality and into a life lived "with one another." Where are our world and our lives headed? Our "postmodern" society explores and questions all aspects of life and thought, even those we once took for granted. But, these are not new questions. This study explores key post-modern questions in light of historic Christianity and what the Bible says. Grapple with your questions in a supportive small-group environment. Still one thing holds true, as human beings we are wired for worship. Whether it is career and finances or relationships and family, we will instinctively worship something. The Embraceable Mystery...God	Live with mystery...embrace your God! God has many contrasting aspects of who He is. He is far more complex than we could ever hope to understand fully. He is holy and mysterious, and yet as near and personal as our dearest friend. He is everywhere, and yet we can encounter Him in specific places. From a distance, He creates a universe from nothing by the power of His word. By contrast, we see God digging down into the dirt, using that dirt to form a man, and then, in a very intimate way, breathing the breath of life into his nostrils. This is an "up-close-and-personal" God. God, as we encounter Him in Jesus Christ, is an "embraceable mystery." Explore together the puzzle of these contrasts as you deepen your relationship with God.
